SUBJECT: Visit to Dublin of Codel-IPU.

Although the visit to Dublin of certain members of the United States Delegation to the IPU Conference in London on September 8, 1957 was for the purpose of sight-seeing, the Department may be interested in the following information concerning this visit. The list of members of the official party making this visit, a copy of the program and press clippings concerning it are enclosed.

The group comprised some twenty-eight persons, and arrived at the Dublin airport at 12:15 p.m. on September 8, where it was met by the Ambassador, the Counselor, the Military Attache and certain other Embassy officers, and their wives. A modern sight-seeing bus was made available to the group throughout its visit, and provided all local transportation. The party went from the airport to the Gresham Hotel, where a luncheon, at their own expense, was provided. Following the luncheon, a sight-seeing trip of approximately three hours was made through the towns and countryside of Wicklow County, south of Dublin.

Following the sight-seeing trip, the Ambassador and Mrs. McLeod held a reception at the residence in Phoenix Park for the group, which was attended by all of the Embassy officers and their wives, by the President of Ireland and Mrs. O'Kelly, the Lord Mayor and the members of the Irish Delegation to the IPU Conference. The famous Abbey Players troupe were also invited. On the return to the airport following this reception, a brief stop was made, at the invitation of President O'Kelly, to provide opportunity for a few minutes visit to his residence, also in Phoenix Park.

No briefing was held nor were substantitive briefing papers made available to the Delegation, although they were provided with tourist literature regarding Dublin. The group did not use counterpart funds. Opportunity for press interviews and photographs was provided at the airport on arrival and at the Ambassador's reception.

The organization of the flight and the visit to Dublin was in the hands of Captain Rhodan McElroy, Senior Navy Escort Officer and Commander Ralph Elliott, Junior Navy Escort Officer. The Counselor of Embassy was the Control Officer.
